Alexandra Street Parking Usage Snapshot:

Based on recent parking occupancy data, everyday use is not anticipated to be affected, even with the removal of some spaces. The car parking is currently underutilized, and sufficient capacity will remain under the proposed options.

Surveys were conducted across weekdays and weekends during two separate periods: August 27–31 and October 15–20. The average occupancy observed during these times is summarized in the table below, confirming that there's still plenty of room for daily parking needs.

Section 1 (Alexandra Street between Alma Rd and Dandenong Rd):

Street Sections	Total spaces	Occupied spaces	Un-Occupied Spaces
Alma Rd to Murchison St (West side)	20 spaces	1 space (5%)	19 spaces
Alma Rd to Murchison St (East side)	6 spaces	4 spaces (60%)	2 spaces
Murchison St to Dandenong Rd (West side)	35 spaces	13 spaces (35%)	22 spaces
Murchison St to Dandenong Rd (East side)	16 spaces	13 spaces (80%)	3 spaces
total	77 spaces	31 spaces	46 spaces

Section 2 (Alexandra Street South of Alma Rd)

August survey: typical utilisation 70–85% indicating heavy use.

October survey: moderate to high greater than 70% across all days.
